thirty-day period following release from active duty if he or she is filing a claim for unemployment benefits after the thirty-day period has expired.

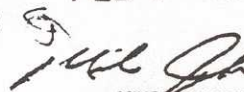

005. A claimant who finds that his or her employer will not allow a return to the agreed upon employment at the end of the leave of absence shall be considered to have been discharged at the expiration of the leave.
006. A claimant who leaves work for a definite period of time but does not seek and receive a reasonable assurance from the employer that the agreed upon employment will be available when that period of time expires shall be considered to have severed and voluntarily left the employment at the time of leaving work.
007. Intervening acts of the claimant or employer may be deemed to have terminated the leave of absence prior to its scheduled expiration.
008. It shall be presumed that an indefinite or temporary disciplinary suspension by the employer is not a mutually and voluntarily agreed to absence from work. For the purpose of determining eligibility for unemployment benefits, such a claimant is presumed to have been discharged by the employer at the time of the suspension.
009. If there is a finding that the employee is on a leave of absence, no charging determination shall be made as to an employee's employment with the employer from which he or she is on a leave of absence until such time as an actual separation from such employment occurs. The subsequent chargeability determination shall be applied to any current or future claim for benefits where the base period includes the period of employment during which the leave of absence occurred.
