

Transitional Jobs

Transitional jobs (TJ), defined as time-limited work experiences that are wage-paid and subsidized, and are in the public, private, or non-profit sectors for those individuals with barriers to employment who are chronically unemployed or have inconsistent work history.

TJ must be combined with comprehensive career services and supportive services. These jobs are designed to enable an individual to establish a work history, demonstrate work success in an employee-employer relationship, and develop the skills that lead to unsubsidized employment.

There is no requirement that the employer retain the individual upon completion of the TJ however, retention is preferred for the benefit of the worker and employer when appropriate.

Participant Eligibility

In addition to meeting general eligibility requirements for the WIOA program and being unemployed at the date of application to the WIOA program, the participant must also have one or more barriers to employment and be chronically unemployed or have an inconsistent work history. These eligibility requirements must be documented in the participant file.

4. Are on parole or probation, or have been released from prison/jail within the 12 months prior to application

Eligible Employers

Eligible employers can be from the public, private, or non-profit sectors. As TJs are structured to help participants achieve success in the workplace and develop skills needed to obtain and retain unsubsidized employment, the employer must be able to provide supervision and appropriate feedback to the participant at regular intervals during the course of the activity and be willing to participate in the required monthly monitoring conducted by the career planner.

An employer will be ineligible if they meet one or more of the following:

1. The employer has recently laid off an individual of the same or equivalent position.
2. The transitional job placement would infringe upon the promotion of or displacement of any currently employed worker or lead to a reduction in their hours.

Future TJ requests from employers will be denied if the requirements set forth in previous worksite agreements were not honored.

TJ clients do not receive sick leave, holiday pay, vacation time, or overtime and may work not work more than 40 hours per week. TJ clients may be paid for hours worked on a holiday if the career planner verifies with the worksite supervisor that the worksite was operational and the hours were in fact worked.

TJ payroll is completed biweekly, on the same schedule as the State payroll. Timesheets must be submitted between Friday, end of payroll and Monday, beginning of next payroll to ndol.billingandpayments@nebraska.gov and ndol.greaternebraska@nebraska.gov. Timesheets must be signed by the supervisor, participant, and career planner.

Late timesheets- If timesheets are not submitted by the Monday following the end of payroll the participant will not be paid until the following payroll.

Timesheet

A new timesheet must be completed each pay period.

Pay Period #- B1 (There are 26 pay periods in a year. The first pay period in January is B1, each pay period counts up from there)

Participant Address

Worksite Name

Worksite Address

Calendar work week is Monday-Sunday. Enter the start and end date of each work week. For each day worked enter the in and out time. Timesheets should be completed by the worksite and submitted to the career planner bi-weekly.

Note: Ensure breaks are tracked for participants working six hours or longer at a time. If breaks are not being tracked, remind the worksite that breaks are required for six hour or longer shifts.

If the timesheet is completed online the totals will automatically calculate. If the timesheet is completed manually, you will have to calculate the total hours worked each day, total hours for the week, total hours for both weeks, and gross wages for both weeks. If the timesheet is completed manually, include a typed version when you submit for payment. Only one timesheet needs signatures.

Timesheets must be signed and dated by the worksite supervisor, participant, and career planner. Timesheets can be submitted without signatures, but a signed version must be submitted before the next pay period ends.

Career planners must review timesheets for legibility and accuracy. Calculations errors do not have to be sent back to the worksite. Cross out the error, write the correct amount, and initial beside the correction.
